

FAN-TASY

Don't let your love for your favourite piece of media, book, or franchise stay hidden. Whether on traditional media or on a screen, delegates will show their dedication to their fandom by creating a rendition of their favourite character through challenging and contrasting themes revealed on campus. Across multiple rounds, delegates will be pushed to reinterpret their chosen fandom through new perspectives, styles, and narratives.

DELEGATE CAP: 1 DELEGATE PER TEAM

TIME LIMIT: 9 HOURS

Round 1: Canon Rewired

TIME LIMIT: 5 HOURS

Your prompts will be revealed on campus ;)

Round 2: Reframed (Poster Making)

TIME LIMIT: 4 HOURS

Delegates must incorporate their previous themed artwork into an original poster design.

- The poster must have a clear message, theme, or narrative, expanding on the themes while giving it a new context (e.g., a movie poster, campaign poster, or fictional event poster).
- Delegates are expected to design the layout thoughtfully, focusing on typography, balance, and hierarchy of elements.
- The poster should demonstrate strong graphic design principles, including alignment, spacing, and composition, while maintaining the theme established in Round 1.

Guidelines:

All mediums, including traditional and digital artwork, are allowed.

Restrictions:

- AI-generated art or AI-related software
- Canva
- Pre-made templates, stock illustrations, or clip art (unless provided and approved as references)
- Tracing directly from existing artworks or screenshots
- Watermarked images or any unlicensed resources
- Outsourcing the work (getting help from others, hiring designers, etc.)
- Any plagiarism or copying of existing digital or traditional artworks
- Having another person draw, paint, edit, design, or otherwise contribute to the final artwork
- Using pre-made artwork or physical artwork created before the competition
- Using digital tools to generate, auto-create, or substantially produce artwork on the delegate's behalf

References may be used for inspiration and visual research, but the final artwork must be the delegate's own original work. Delegates may be asked to provide their references or working process to the Category Head for verification.

Judging Criteria:

- Uniqueness: Creativity, originality, and digital/traditional innovation.
- Coherence to the Theme: How effectively the delegate interprets and expresses the theme.
- Fandom Integration: How naturally and meaningfully the chosen character and fandom are incorporated.
- Presentation: Quality, polish, and overall artistic technique.
- Composition: Balance, use of space, and arrangement of visual elements.
- Visual Storytelling: How effectively the artwork communicates an idea, narrative, or emotion.

Artworks must not include:

- Depictions of violence
- Drug use or abuse
- Profanity
- Sexual content
- Offensive or harmful imagery
- Hate speech or discriminatory content
- Graphic or disturbing imagery

Note:

- The proceedings of each round may be altered at the sole discretion of the category head.
